Data Aggregation, Translation, and Formatting

QEDLink, from QED Financial Systems, enables investment advisors, investment managers, and managers of managers to focus on their core business processes, streamline their data aggregation and translation processes, and increase accuracy and flexibility.

Rather than burdening themselves with the cumbersome tasks of data extraction and custom formatting, investment advisors and managers can use QEDLink for aggregating, translating, and formatting their daily data files. QEDLink will take the daily data files from the advisors' systems' native formats and translate the files into the formats required by their data consumers. Additionally, QED Financial Systems will send the formatted files directly to their intended recipients via FTP, SFTP, or email.
